THIS DAY personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority in and for the above County and State, LOUISE LEDBETTER, who, first having been by me duly sworn, upon oath did depose and say as follows:

I have examined an instrument headed "Last Will and Testament of Florence Elisabeth Furlow", signed by Florence Elisabeth Furlow under date of 27th day of April, no year named, and witnessed by Mrs. Sarah V. Garrison and Louise Ledbetter. For several years prior to her death Miss Florence Furlow and I had separate apartments in the same residence. The signature to the instrument is hers and I subscribed same as witness with Mrs. Sarah V. Garrison. I am not, of my independent recollection, able to state the year but from other facts I believe it to have been April 27, 1955. I definitely know that without reference to the exact date, Florence Elisabeth Furlow was at the time, before that time was, and after that time was, of sound, disposing mind and memory and above the age of twenty-one years.

As stated, I together with Mrs. Sarah V. Garrison subscribed and attested said instrument as witnesses to the signature and publication thereof in the presence of the testatrix and in the presence of each other.

THIS DAY personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority in and for the above County and State, MRS. SARAH V. GARRISON, who, first having been by me duly sworn, upon oath did depose and say as follows:

I, together with Louise Ledbetter, was a subscribing witness to the Last Will and Testament of Florence Elizabeth Furlow which is dated 27th. day of April, not followed by the year. Florence Furlow and I were friends of long standing. It is possible that the will was executed April 27, 1954, but it may have been made April 27, 1955. Florence Furlow was a subscribing witness to my own will which bears date of December 29, 1954, and there was not many weeks difference between her signing my will as witness and my signing her will as witness which is why I believe this will was executed in 1955.

At all times during my acquaintence with and contact with her, Florence Furlow was of sound, disposing mind and memory and at the time of the execution of said will, whether it was in 1954 or 1955, she was definitely of sound, disposing mind and memory and above twenty-one years of age.

I, together with Louise Ledbetter, subscribed and attested said instrument as witnesses to the signature and publication thereof at the special instance and request, and in the presence of the testatrix, and in the presence of each other.

We were on quite friendly relations and she frequently mentioned her personal affairs to me. There has been exhibited to me a will signed by her "27th day of April" witnessed by Mrs. Sarah V. Garrison and Louise Ledbetter. Miss Ledbetter, also, occupies another apartment in my residence. I was not a witness to said will but Miss Furlow told me it had been executed. In February of 1955, my father died and I am certain that this will was executed in the same year that my father died which would make it April 27, 1955.

To the Chancery Court of Madison County, Mississippi:

Now comes Walter L. Hulstedt, one of Trustees under Articles 4 and 5 of Last Will and Testament of Sue D. Hauberg, deceased, and shows to the Court and petitions as follows:

Upon the 13th day of February, 1942, Mrs. Sue D. Hauberg died at Rock Island, in the County of Rock Island, State of Illinois, leaving a last will and testament, which was by proper proceedings in the Probate Court of Rock Island, Illinois, admitted to probate and established as the true and original last will and testament of the said Mrs. Sue D. Hauberg. Petitioner submits herewith an authenticated copy of the record from said Court of said will and the probate thereof.

Petitioner shows that [redacted] said testatrix owned [redacted] real property in Madison County and elsewhere in the State of Mississippi, and no tangible personal property, he is advised that said will if probated in Madison County, Mississippi, will constitute a muniment of title to property in said County, and that, therefore, it is entitled to be probated, and Petitioner desires that said will be probated on the record submitted, as contemplated and provided by Section 510 of the Code of 1942.

PREMISES CONSIDERED, Petitioner prays that the Court will, upon said authenticated record, admit said will to probate and record in Madison County, Mississippi, as the true and last will and testament of the said Mrs. Sue D. Hauberg, deceased.

And Petitioner prays for general relief.

The manner of disbursement may be altered and varied from time to time or the institution or institutions to which disbursements are made may be changed from time to time in the discretion of the Trustees.

ARTICLE EIGHTH

Section 1. Distribution Income

From the gross income (disregarding capital gains and stock dividends) the Trustees shall deduct all expenses of administering the trust, including reasonable compensation for the Trustees, all taxes and governmental charges payable out of the trust property, and may but need not deduct a reasonable charge for depreciation and depletion and for amortization of investment premiums paid, but shall not deduct capital

SECTION 4. PERPETUITY CLAUSE

Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the trust hereby created (other than for the purposes specified in Article Seventh) shall cease and terminate upon the expiration of twenty-one (21) years after the death of the one last surviving of my son, John H. Hauberg, Jr., and my daughter, Catherine Hauberg Sweeney.

SECTION 5. PRINCIPAL BENEFICIARY

Hauberg, when applied in relation to the trust provided for in Article Fourth; to my daughter, Catherine H. Sweeney, when applied in relation to the trust provided for in Article Fifth; and to my son, John H. Hauberg, Jr., when applied in relation to the trust provided for in Article Sixth.

SECTION 6. ADVANCES

Any and all sums of money and any and all property paid, expended, assigned, transferred, or conveyed by me to, or for, or in behalf of my husband, John H. ARTICLE NINTH

Designation of Trustees

Section 1. The Trustees named in each of Articles Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth (or the survivor of them) may in their unfettered discretion designate a trustee or trustees to act in their stead in the event that they do not accept the trust and that neither of them accepts the trust. If neither of them accepts the trust and if they both fail to designate a trustee or trustees to act in their stead, the principal beneficiary may designate a trustee or trustees to act in their stead.

Section 2. The principal beneficiary of each trust created by Articles Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth may as to the Trustees of his or her trust designate an additional trustee, remove any or all the trustees at any time, or designate a successor or successors. After the death or during disability of a principal beneficiary, like powers as to his or her trust may be designated by the other two principal beneficiaries or the survivor of them.

Section 3. A trustee or trustees may continue to act and to exercise all the powers of the trustees notwithstanding the death or resignation of a co-trustee.

Section 4. In the event a successor is not otherwise designated, then the last acting trustee may make such designation, effective at the date or on the occasion (including the death of the last acting trustee) as may be set forth in a written instrument signed by the last acting trustee.

End of Page Fourteen of Will of Sue D. Hauberg SDH

Beginning of Page Fifteen of Will of Sue D. Hauberg

Section 5. A new or substituted trustee shall have all the rights, powers, and duties, and all the immunities granted to an original trustee.

Section 6. A trustee may resign by giving notice in writing to all the beneficiaries then entitled to receive any distribution of income from the trust and to the other trustee or trustees, if any. Such resignation shall become and be effective on such date as may be designated therein and in the absence of such designation shall become and be effective upon its delivery.

Section 7. If the principal beneficiary consents or, the principal beneficiary being unable to consent, then if a majority of the adult income beneficiaries of the particular trust consent, a successor trustee of the trust shall not be required to examine the accounts, records, and acts of a previous trustee but may accept the final accounting of any prior trustee as conclusive of the amount, nature, and allocation of the respective assets of the trust. In any event and even though such consent is not given, a successor trustee shall not be required to so examine and may so accept unless a beneficiary shall by written notice within ninety (90) days after the successor accepts the trust call his attention to any discrepancy in the accounts or to improper acts of the prior trustee and requests in writing an investigation of the same, in which case the successor shall take such action in respect thereof as in his sole judgment he shall deem proper.

ARTICLE TENTH

End of Page Sixteen of Will of Sue D. Hauberg
Beginning of Page Seventeen of Will of Sue D. Hauberg SDH

(b) LIMITATION OF TRUSTEE'S LIABILITY. A trustee hereunder shall not be liable for any act or omission of any co-trustee or co-trustees or for any loss resulting from error of judgment or mistake or for any loss not caused by his own wilful default and in particular shall not be liable because of the manner or amount of any distribution made by a trustee or trustees pursuant to the discretion reposed in the trustee or trustees.

End of Page Seventeen of Will of Sue D. Hauberg SDH

The principal beneficiary may at any time or from time to time by instrument in writing delivered to the trustee waive approval or disapproval of sales and investments and by similar instrument re-assume such right.

(d) The statement of a trustee that the principal beneficiary has approved a proposed act or that approval is not required shall protect all persons dealing with a trustee hereunder.

(e) The powers of the trustee otherwise provided for in this will are and shall be subject to the provisions of this section.

SECTION 3. TRUSTEE'S POWERS

Subject to the other provisions of this will, a trustee acting hereunder shall have all the power and authority over the trust property that he would have if he were the absolute owner thereof in his own right. The enumeration of specific powers shall not be taken to restrict that general power and authority. The general power and authority hereby granted and each specific power enumerated below shall be exercised by the trustee without prior application to or subsequent approval of a court or judicial authority. Specifically, a trustee hereunder is and shall be authorized and empowered:

1. To take and to hold, and to continue to hold, without liability for depreciation or loss through error of judgment, any and all stocks, bonds, securities, or items of property, real or personal, of which the trust is originally comprised, as well as any such holdings accepted in exchange or re-exchange for such original holdings.
