2. All expenses of my last illness, funeral and burial;
3. All administration expenses of my estate;
4. All of my just debts allowed as claims against my estate.

ARTICLE SIX

To my trustees hereinafter named, and to their successors, in trust for the uses and purposes hereinafter specified, I give, devise and bequeath property of the value of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00), as of the date of my death, to be selected from my estate by my executors hereinafter named, in their discretion; and if my wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, does not survive me, then in addition to said amount I give, devise and bequeath all of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate and property, real, personal and mixed, to my said trustees and to their successors for such uses and purposes. My said trustees and their successors shall hold and distribute the principal and income of the trust created by this ARTICLE SIX as hereinafter specified and subject to the following terms and conditions:

James Franklin Sutherland

FIRST: All of the income of said trust shall be paid to my said wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, in convenient installments, not less often than quarterly, as long as she lives.

SECOND: If the income from said trust is inadequate for the reasonable maintenance, care, support, comfort, traveling expenses, recreation or general welfare of my said wife, the corporate trustee acting hereunder from time to time, in its sole discretion, shall have the right and power to pay to my said wife or for her use and benefit from time to time, from the principal of said trust, such amounts as the corporate trustee deems reasonably necessary and advisable for such purposes, not exceeding, however, the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) in any one calendar year.

THIRD: Upon the death of my said wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, all of the income of said trust shall be paid to my daughter, Prudence Sutherland Brooks, in convenient installments, not less often than quarterly, as long as she lives. If my said daughter is deceased, all of the income of said trust shall be paid to her children in equal shares; and the issue of any deceased child of my said daughter shall take such deceased parent's share of such income by right of representation. Whenever any child of my said daughter or its issue shall have received its share of the principal of said trust, payment of income from said trust to such child or its issue shall cease.

FOURTH: At any time after the death of my said wife, if the income from said trust is inadequate for the reasonable maintenance, care, support, comfort, traveling expenses, education, recreation or general welfare of my said daughter, Prudence Sutherland Brooks, her children, grandchildren and husband (taking into account the income of her husband, children and grandchildren from other sources), the corporate trustee acting hereunder from time to time, in its sole discretion, shall have the right and power to pay, from the principal of said trust, to my said daughter or for her use and benefit, and after her death, to her children, grandchildren or husband or for their use and benefit, such amounts as the corporate trustee deems reasonably necessary and advisable for such purposes, not exceeding, however, the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) in any one calendar year.

FIFTH: Except as hereinbefore authorized by Subdivisions SECOND and FOURTH of this ARTICLE SIX, none of the principal of said trust shall be distributed prior to the death of the survivor of my wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, and my daughter, Prudence Sutherland Brooks; and upon the death of the survivor of them, all of the principal of said trust shall be paid and distributed to the children of my said daughter in equal shares; provided nevertheless that no share of the principal shall be paid to any child of my said daughter until such child attains the age of thirty (30) years, but any such child who has not attained the age of thirty (30) years shall be paid the income of his or her share of said trust until he or she attains that age. In case of the death of any such child of my said daughter prior to the distribution of such child's full share of the principal of said trust, such child's share of the principal shall be paid to its issue by right of representation and at the same date as the deceased parent of such issue would have been entitled to his or her share of the principal had such deceased parent survived. In case any child of my said daughter dies without issue surviving it prior to the actual distribution of such child's full share of the principal of said trust, any part of such share of the principal not actually distributed to such child shall go to augment ratably the shares apportionable to the other children of my said daughter including by right of representation, the issue of any child of my said daughter who is deceased. Upon the death of the last survivor of my said wife and all of my issue, if there is any of the principal of said trust then remaining undistributed, all of same shall be paid to the persons who would be my heirs-at-law had I died intestate immediately after the death of such last survivor, as such heirship is determined by the laws of the State of Minnesota then in force.

SIXTH: The trust created by this ARTICLE SIX shall terminate upon the happening of whichever of the following events shall first occur:

1. Upon the final distribution of all of said trust as above provided in Subdivision FIFTH of this ARTICLE SIX.
2. Upon the expiration of twentyone (21) years from the date of the death of the last survivor of my said wife and all of my issue living at the time of my death; at the end of which time distribution of all of said trust then remaining shall be made as above provided in Subdivision FIFTH of this ARTICLE SIX without regard to any provision hereof which might postpone distribution beyond such time.

SEVENTH: My trustees, in their discretion, may make payment of any income payable to any beneficiary of the trust created by this ARTICLE SIX in any one or more of the following ways, to-wit:

- (1) directly to the beneficiary, (2) to the legal or natural guardian of the beneficiary, (3) to any person or institution who shall have the custody and care of the person of the beneficiary, or
- (4) directly for the expense of the maintenance, care, support, education, comfort, traveling expenses, recreation or general welfare of the beneficiary. My trustees shall not be obliged to see to the application of funds paid in any such way, and the receipt of any such person or institution to whom they are so paid shall be full acquittance and discharge of my trustees.

EIGHTH: Neither the principal nor the income of the trust created by this ARTICLE SIX shall be liable for the debts of any beneficiary, and no beneficiary shall have any power to sell, assign, transfer, encumber or in any other manner to anticipate or dispose of his or her interest in either the principal or income of said trust prior to the actual distribution and delivery thereof by my trustees to such beneficiary.

NINTH: Should any real estate ever become or be decreed to be a part of the property of the trust hereby created, and in case a sale thereof should be necessary in order to make or keep said trust valid according to law, I direct my trustees to sell such real estate and convert it into personal property as soon as such conversion can be made without sacrifice and thereafter to keep the proceeds thereof invested only in personal property during the term of said trust.

ARTICLE SEVEN

If my said wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, survives me, then all of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate and property, real, personal and mixed, I give, devise and bequeath to my trustees hereinafter named and to their successors, to be held in a separate trust from the one created by ARTICLE SIX hereof for the following uses and purposes and subject to the following terms and conditions:

FIRST: All of the income of the trust created by this ARTICLE SEVEN shall be paid to my said wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, in convenient installments but not less often than quarterly, as long as she lives.

Jane Ladd Sutherland

SECOND: At any time after my death, my said wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, alone shall have the absolute and unrestricted right and power, exercisable only in and by her last will and testament, to appoint to her estate, or to such party or parties as she may designate in her said will, the entire corpus of said trust created by this ARTICLE SEVEN and all undistributed income therefrom. If my said wife exercises said power of appointment given and granted to her hereby, then upon her death the entire corpus of said trust created by this ARTICLE SEVEN and all undistributed income therefrom shall be paid to her estate or to such party or parties as she shall have designated in her last will and testament, free of this trust; but if my said wife does not exercise said power of appointment, then upon her death all undistributed income of said trust to the date of her death shall be paid to her estate and the principal of said trust shall be added to the trust created by ARTICLE SIX hereof and shall be held, paid and distributed by my trustees as part of the trust created by ARTICLE SIX hereof in the same manner as provided therein.

THIRD: My said wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, shall have the absolute and unrestricted right and power to withdraw from the principal of the trust created by this ARTICLE SEVEN from time to time, such amounts as she may desire but not exceeding the amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) in any one calendar year; and upon her request, my trustees shall pay to her from the principal of said trust such amounts as will not exceed a total of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) in any one calendar year.

ARTICLE EIGHT

A. I hereby make, nominate and appoint Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis (a national banking association with its principal place of business in Minneapolis, Minnesota) and my wife,

PAGE NINE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF

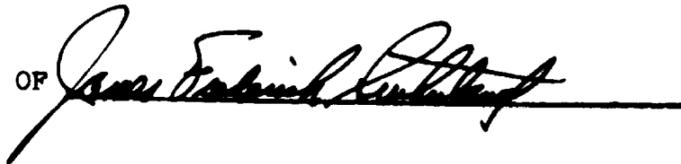

Jane Ladd Sutherland

Jane Ladd Sutherland, as executors of this my last will and testament and as trustees of the trusts hereby created. In case of the death or resignation of my said wife or in case of her inability or refusal to act as one of such executors or trustees, I direct that my daughter, Prudence Sutherland Brooks, be appointed to act in my wife's place. In case of the death or resignation of both my said wife and daughter or in case both of them are unable or refuse to act as one of such executors or trustees, I direct that such person as is designated in writing by the person or the majority of the persons entitled to receive income from said trusts be appointed to act with said Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis as one of the executors and trustees hereunder.

B. I direct that neither my said wife nor my said daughter nor any individual appointed to act as an executor or trustee hereunder shall be required to give any bond to any court or otherwise for the performance of her or his duties as an executor or trustee hereunder.

C. Except as herein otherwise specified to the contrary, the corporate executor and trustee from time to time acting hereunder and the individual executor and trustee from time to time acting hereunder shall have equal authority except that said Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis (and any corporate executor or trustee succeeding it) shall alone be charged with the duty and responsibility of keeping physical possession of all securities and evidences of property and the duty and responsibility of keeping full accounting records of my estate and of the trusts hereby created.

D. Notwithstanding any of the other provisions hereof, I give and grant to my wife, Jane Ladd Sutherland, so long as she lives, the unqualified right and power, at any time and from time to time, to elect to substitute a new corporate executor or trustee in place of said Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis or in place of any other corporate executor or trustee that may at any time be acting hereunder, and to require that all property of my estate or of the trusts hereby created be transferred and delivered to such new corporate executor or trustee as my said wife may select for further administration thereof. Such right and power shall be exercised only by my said wife personally during her lifetime. In exercising such right and power from time to time, my said wife, in her sole discretion, may select as a new corporate executor or trustee hereunder any trust company, bank, national banking association or corporation within the state of Minnesota having power to act as an executor and trustee; but any such corporate executor or trustee selected by my said wife shall have paid-in capital and surplus aggregating not less than two million dollars ($2,000,000.00) and a trust department which at the time of such selection administers trust assets of not less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000.00). Upon the death of my said wife, my daughter, Prudence Sutherland Brooks, so long as she lives, shall have the same unqualified right and power (as is granted by this paragraph D to my said wife) to elect to substitute a new corporate executor or a new corporate trustee of the trust created by ARTICLE SIX hereof, subject only to the limitations expressed by this paragraph D.

ARTICLE NINE

My executors and trustees and their successors shall have all of the rights, powers, duties and discretions given them or imposed on them by law or by this instrument and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, I hereby give and grant unto my executors and trustees, whichever may be acting from time to time, and to their successors, the following rights, powers, duties and discretions, subject only to the limitations expressed in this instrument:

I, Mary L. First: I direct that as soon as may be convenient after my decease, the expenses of my last sickness, funeral expenses, and all my just debts, be paid.

Second: I give, devise and bequeath my home property at 4720 - 17th Avenue, Northeast, Seattle, King County, Washington, which is more particularly described as follows: Lot twenty-one (21), block thirteen (13), University Park Addition, an addition to the City of Seattle, King County, Washington, to my daughter, Erskine Watkins McColloch.

If any of my children shall die after such sale and conversion, leaving issue, then whatever remains of the one-third part or parts of the proceeds of said sale and so resulting to such child or children, I bequeath absolutely to his, her or their issue per stirpes, and if any of my said children shall die after such sale and conversion, without issue, then whatever remains of the one-third part or parts of the proceeds of said sale resulting to such deceased child or children, I bequeath to the survivors or survivor, who may use so much thereof during his, her, or their life or lives, as he, she or they may deem necessary and then to his, her or their issue, absolutely and forever, per stirpes.

Fourth: I have made no bequest herein to my husband, William H. McColloch, for the reason that he has a life income and has his own family property.

Fifth: All of the residue of my estate, real, personal or mixed, wheresoever situated, of which I may die, seized or possessed, or to which I may be entitled at the time of my decease, I give, devise and bequeath, absolutely and forever, to my three children, Elizabeth Zane McColloch Weston, William H. McColloch, Jr., and Erskine Watkins McColloch.

Sixth: I make, constitute and appoint my three (3) children, or the survivors or survivor of them, executors of this, my last will and testament.

Seventh: I direct that my executors shall settle my estate in the manner provided in this, my last will and testament, and that they shall act without the intervention of the probate court or any other court.
